some more directions that the peeps are required to follow otherwise they will be in trouble

Care order restrictions

While a care order is in place, no one can:

- change the child's surname
- take the child out of the UK

unless they have written consent from all people with parental responsibility, or permission from the court.

Taking the child from the UK without this consent or permission might be an offence under the Child Abduction Act 1984.

Swansea City Council has been given parental responsibility under this care order. Swansea City Council may take the child out of the UK for up to 1 month without this consent or permission.
